RICHARD KRUMBEIN IS INVITED TO MEMBERSHIP IN IMGL
Snell & Wilmer attorney is affiliated with Denver and Los Cabos offices

DENVER (November 11, 2009) – Richard Krumbein, a partner in the Denver office of Snell & Wilmer L.L.P., has been accepted into membership by the prestigious International Masters of Gaming Law (IMGL) organization as a General Member representing Colorado.

Established in 2002, the IMGL is a not-for-profit association of more than 200 attorneys, regulators, educators, executives, compliance officers and consultants from around the world who are dedicated to the exchange of information concerning all aspects of gaming law. The organization sponsors educational conferences and symposia, publications including the UNLV Gaming Law Journal and the Gaming Law Review and Economics, and an extensive online resource for gaming law information at www.gaminglawmasters.com.

IMGL General Membership is limited by jurisdiction and each General Member must have at least five years of gaming law experience, represent a substantial gaming clientele and participate actively in philanthropic, charitable or educational programs related to the industry.

Richard Krumbein, who was born in Argentina and is fluent in Spanish, is regarded as an expert by gaming industry clients in both the U.S. and Mexico. His advice on due diligence and compliance procedures is sought by leading manufacturers as they prepare for the sale of Las Vegas style gaming equipment into Mexico, and State of Nevada Gaming Control Board members recently traveled to Mexico with him to better understand the Mexico gaming legal environment and its effect on Nevada Licensees.

Krumbein also serves as vice chair and director of the United States-Mexico Bar Association and is a member of The Arizona-Sonora Commission and the United States-Mexico Law Institute. He is admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Colorado, the Supreme Court of New Mexico, the District of Columbia Bar and the United States Court of Appeals for the 10th Circuit. This year, he was named a Colorado Super Lawyer by Law & Politics magazine.
