

SNELL & WILMER EXPANDS NEVADA PRACTICE

Executive Suites Location Establishes Key Presence in Northern Nevada

LAS VEGAS (February 2, 2010) — Snell & Wilmer L.L.P. announces today that it has secured an executive suites location in Reno to accommodate its expanding Nevada practice.

With the addition of Gregory A. Brower and the expanding activities and clientele of both its Government Relations and Construction groups, Snell & Wilmer has determined it advantageous to have a more definitive presence in northern Nevada, and specifically Reno. Brower, former U.S. Attorney for the District of Nevada, joined the firm's Las Vegas office as a partner in late 2009. His practice, which extends from Las Vegas to northern Nevada, focuses on complex civil litigation, as well as federal and state criminal investigations and regulatory enforcement actions, corporate compliance matters, internal investigations, and administrative law issues.

“Snell & Wilmer continually looks for opportunities to enhance its existing practice and its ability to address clients’ specific needs,” said John J. Bouma, Chairman of Snell & Wilmer. “Our presence in Reno is an extension of our existing Las Vegas office. The growth of key practice areas and the addition of Greg Brower made the decision to broaden our geographical reach to northern Nevada a logical next step.”
