SNELL & WILMER PARTNER JOINS WLF ADVISORY BOARD
Washington Legal Foundation welcomes Greg Brower to its Legal Policy Advisory Board

LAS VEGAS (October 21, 2010) – Snell & Wilmer L.L.P. is pleased to announce that Greg Brower, a partner in the firm’s Las Vegas and Reno locations, is the newest member of Washington Legal Foundation’s (WLF) Legal Policy Advisory Board. The board is chaired by former U.S. Attorney General Dick Thornburgh and is composed of fifty prominent legal scholars, practitioners and entrepreneurs.

Founded in 1977, WLF is a public interest policy and advocacy group devoted to free market principles, limited and accountable government, individual rights, business civil liberties, and legal ethics. Brower’s relationship with WLF goes back to 1990 when served as a law clerk in the WLF’s Litigation Division while still in law school. He has remained actively involved with WLF, most recently authoring two WLF Legal Backgrounders: “Rolling The Dice For Deep Pockets?: Why Nevada Courts Should Find $500 Million Punitive Award Excessive” and “What Corporate Counsel Should Know About Inspectors General Investigations.”

“We are pleased to be able to share Greg’s considerable experience and knowledge with one of the nation’s leading public interest law institutions,” said Snell & Wilmer Chairman John Bouma.

Prior to joining Snell & Wilmer, Brower served in a variety of senior government posts. From 2003 to 2004, he was with the U.S. Department of Justice in Washington, D.C., where he helped secure the reauthorization of the USA PATRIOT Act. He later served at the U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO), first as Inspector General and then as General Counsel. In 2007, he was appointed as U.S. Attorney for the District of Nevada by President George W. Bush and served in that capacity until September of 2009. Currently, Brower’s practice is focused on complex civil and white collar criminal litigation, as well as corporate investigations and administrative law.
