LOCAL NON-PROFIT HONORS SNELL & WILMER AT RECOGNITION DINNER

ORANGE COUNTY (April 4, 2011) – Snell & Wilmer is proud to announce that Grandma’s House of Hope (GHH) presented the firm’s Orange County office with its highest award - the “Home is Where the Heart Is Award 2010” - at its annual recognition dinner.

GHH is a non-profit 501(c)(3) charity operating as a multi-generational continuum of care designed to provide services, programs and affordable housing to under-served and underprivileged persons in Orange County and its surrounding areas. Through integrated programs, GHH strives to create a sense of community, belonging and stability. Through service to each other and to their community, women become empowered and achieve independence, accountability and spiritual growth.

Snell & Wilmer’s Orange County office has had a relationship with GHH and served as its counsel for more than three years. Attorneys and paralegals from a variety of practice groups have dedicated time and effort to helping the GHH cause. Josette Mollica, an associate at Snell & Wilmer’s Orange County office and GHH advisory board member, describes Je’net Kreitner, GHH’s founder and Executive Director, as a remarkable woman. “Her dedication and devotion to her faith and community are truly inspirational. It has been our privilege to help Je’net make GHH a reality and serve as its legal counsel over the years,” said Mollica.

The firm considers Pro Bono activities an important professional responsibility in which each attorney is held to a high standard. Legal representation of charitable organizations, such as GHH, is only part of Snell & Wilmer’s devotion to community involvement.
