

THE RENO PHILHARMONIC NAMES SNELL & WILMER ATTORNEY CRAIG DENNEY TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

RENO (Aug 28, 2013) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that Craig Denney, counsel in the firm’s Reno office, was elected to the Board of Trustees of the Reno Philharmonic Association (RPA), the largest performing arts organization in Northern Nevada. He recently began serving his three-year term.

RPA performs in Reno, Carson Valley and the Lake Tahoe region in various outdoor and indoor venues. Reaching more than 70,000 people each year, the orchestra presents more than 25 concert performances throughout the year. The organization also boasts an award-winning and diverse education department, which includes three youth orchestras, an after-school violin instruction program, and the “Discover Music” program, which brings music ensembles into schools. The education programs reach over 35,000 school-aged children per year and work in tandem with the Washoe County School District.

“I am honored to serve on the board of trustees for an organization that enriches the lives of children and adults through music and education,” said Denney. “We are so fortunate to have the Reno Philharmonic in our community, and I look forward to working with my fellow board members to continue this rich tradition that has become an integral part of our arts community.”

Denney focuses his practice in the areas of white collar defense and investigations, securities litigation, government relations, commercial litigation and antitrust. Denney is a board certified criminal trial advocate with over 35 federal jury trials to his credit. He provides practical legal advice to corporate and individual clients on both internal and grand jury investigations. Denney has served in the U.S. Army both on active duty and in the reserve for 19 years as a military lawyer. Prior to joining Snell & Wilmer, he was an assistant U.S. attorney in the U.S. Attorney’s Office, District of Nevada. Denney is an adjunct faculty member at the University of Nevada, Reno. He is also active in the Reno community and serves on the board of trustees of the Nevada Museum of Art and is a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Rotary Club of Reno Sunrise.
