

SNELL & WILMER PARTNER GREG BROWER LEADS PANEL DISCUSSION ON REGULATION OF INTERNET GAMBLING AT NCLGS SUMMER MEETING

RENO (June 11, 2014) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that Reno Partner, Greg Brower, recently led a panel discussion at the National Council of Legislators from Gaming States (NCLGS) summer meeting in La Jolla, California.

Brower moderated a panel discussion titled "Regulated Internet Gambling, Year One: Success or Failure?" Panel members included Richard Schuetz, head of California's Gambling Control Commission; Michael Pollock, managing director of Spectrum Gaming; and Marco Valerio, writer/reporter for Online Poker Report and other gaming publications. The panel's discussion focused on the emerging Internet gaming industry and the complex state and federal regulatory issues associated with its growth.

Founded in 1995, NCLGS is dedicated to promoting sound gaming public policy and provides meetings that offer state legislators a dynamic learning environment to discuss and debate current gaming issues in an unbiased format.

Brower's practice is focused on complex civil and white collar criminal litigation, as well as corporate investigations and administrative law, including gaming regulatory matters. His more than 20 years of practice includes significant experience as a "first chair" trial and appellate advocate, as well as service at the highest levels of state and federal government. In addition to being a partner at Snell & Wilmer, he serves in the Nevada Senate where he is the Ranking Member of the Judiciary Committee.

The Nevada offices of Snell & Wilmer serve a wide range of clients in the following practice areas: civil and commercial litigation; administrative law; real estate transactions; finance; corporate and tax; bankruptcy; government affairs; employment and labor; gaming; and construction law.
