

SNELL & WILMER LAUNCHES CONSTRUCTION LAW BLOG

Construction Ally offers insight, analysis and updates for the growing construction and development industries in the Western U.S.

LAS VEGAS (August 1, 2014) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce the launch of its newest blog focused on the construction and development industries. Construction Ally will serve as a source of information, updates and analysis for this growing business sector and provide a forum to discuss relevant and timely issues affecting builders, owners, contractors, subcontractors, design professionals and the construction industry as a whole in the western United States.

Offered by Snell & Wilmer’s construction attorneys across the Southwest region, Construction Ally will offer clients and visitors to the site the deep knowledge and broad experience of the firm’s 40-plus construction attorneys who practice in states across the western U.S., including Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas and Utah.

“Visitors to our site will have access to information on a regional basis and regularly hear from the attorneys – across seven states – who have a pulse on both the development within their local communities as well as the larger metropolitan areas,” said Daniel Frost, Snell & Wilmer partner and leader of the firm’s construction industry practice group. “With the construction industry rapidly gaining steam across the western region and the U.S., it’s more important than ever that we provide our clients with the most up-to-date and reliable information so that they have it at their fingertips and can make informed decisions regarding the issues that are impacting their businesses.”

Snell & Wilmer’s Construction Industry Group handles complex and sophisticated construction transactions and claims across the United States and around the world. The firm’s construction attorneys have the national reputation, regional strength and local experience to guide businesses through every step of a project – from conception to construction to operation and maintenance. They are frequently recognized for their contributions, achievements and dedication to their clients. The firm is currently ranked as National Tier 1 for Construction Law by U.S. News – Best Lawyers® “Best Law Firms.” Chambers USA® lists several attorneys in the Snell & Wilmer construction group as leading lawyers in the field of construction. Several attorneys are included in the lists for The Best Lawyers in America® and Super Lawyers®, and have been rated “AV” by Martindale-Hubbell®.
