

SNELL & WILMER PARTNER GREG BROWER ELECTED TO BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF GAMING ADVISORS

LAS VEGAS (Nov. 3, 2014) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that partner Greg Brower has been appointed to the Board of Trustees of the International Association of Gaming Advisors at its annual meeting in Philadelphia.

The International Association of Gaming Advisors (IAGA) is the world's preeminent association of gaming advisors and includes senior executives, legal and financial advisors, regulators, consultants and academics. Members are involved in the evolution of regulated gaming in numerous jurisdictions worldwide, and contribute to the promulgation and progress of gaming law through publications, conferences and teaching.

"I am honored to be joining some of the world's best gaming lawyers on IAGA's Board of Trustees," said Brower. "I look forward to working with my esteemed colleagues around the globe as IAGA continues its leadership role within the international gaming community."

Brower is a partner in Snell & Wilmer's Reno and Las Vegas offices. His practice is focused on complex civil and white collar criminal litigation, as well as corporate investigations and administrative law, including gaming regulatory matters. His more than 20 years of practice includes significant experience as a "first chair" trial and appellate advocate, as well as service at the highest levels of state and federal government. In addition to being a partner at Snell & Wilmer, he serves in the Nevada Senate where he is the Ranking Member of the Judiciary Committee. He has received the preeminent AV-rating by Martindale-Hubbell and has been named to The Best Lawyers in America®, 2014.

A frequent author and lecturer on gaming issues, Brower recently served on the Nevada Legislature's Interim Committee to Study the Impact of Technology upon the Regulation of Gaming. He is also an adjunct professor at UNLV's William S. Boyd School of Law and is a member of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws, the Washington Legal Foundation's Legal Policy Advisory Board, the American Inns of Court, the National Association of Former United States Attorneys and the American Bar Association.

The Nevada offices of Snell & Wilmer serve a wide range of clients in the following practice areas: civil and commercial litigation; administrative law; real estate transactions; finance; corporate and tax; bankruptcy; government affairs; employment and labor; gaming; and construction law.
