SNELL & WILMER PARTNER DANIEL S. WITTENBERG NAMED “LIFE SCIENCES STAR” BY LMG

DENVER (September 6, 2016) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that Daniel S. Wittenberg, firm partner and co-chair of Snell & Wilmer’s Medical Device and Pharmaceutical Industry group, has been named a “Life Sciences Star” by LMG Life Sciences. The publication serves as a resource for legal expertise in the life science industry, including biotechnology, agritech, medical device, and pharmaceutical products. LMG Life Sciences recognizes attorneys and firms in four main practice areas: Regulatory, Intellectual Property, Finance & Transactional, and Non-IP Litigation and Enforcement.

Wittenberg has been listed as a recurring “Life Sciences Star” in the Non-IP Litigation and Enforcement practice area. Extensive research is conducted by the publication in determining which attorneys and firms to list in the report.

“To be recognized as a ‘Life Sciences Star’ by LMG is an honor,” Wittenberg said. “I have had the privilege of working with exceptional companies and innovators in the life sciences, pharmaceutical and medical technology industries, both locally and nationally. I am dedicated in continuing to provide legal services to dynamic companies and individuals in the life sciences industry, and am committed to fostering relationships with those in the field.”

Daniel S. Wittenberg

For nearly 25 years, Wittenberg has counseled life science, pharmaceutical, medical technology and consumer product companies in formulating creative, effective and efficient solutions to problems in both the litigation and non-litigation settings. He works with clients on risk management strategies, recalls, product liability issues and regulatory matters, including those involving the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and Consumer Products Safety Commission (CPSC). Wittenberg has attained certification as a Global Regulatory Affairs Compliance Professional (GRACP) and has served as national counsel for major medical device manufacturing concerns and regional counsel in mass tort cases. He also represents companies in commercial litigation and works with entities in technology transfer, university commercialization, startups and intellectual property matters.

Wittenberg serves the life science and medical technology industry through his active involvement on the board of directors for the Colorado BioScience Association, for which he is co-chair of the Government Relations and Public Affairs Committee, as well as an executive board member of the association. Further, he is a frequent contributor to American Bar Association publications and a guest speaker on a variety of topics at state and national conferences.

In the community, Wittenberg is a member of the Boulder Economic Council, and has also participated in the Leadership Boulder County program that selects a limited number of individuals in order to develop leaders who are informed, involved and concerned about issues germane to Boulder County in Colorado. Dan graduated from the University of Colorado, Boulder, and earned his J.D. from the Sturm College of Law at the University of Denver.
