NINE SNELL & WILMER ATTORNEYS SELECTED TO 2018 COLORADO SUPER LAWYERS AND RISING STARS LISTS

Denver (March 26, 2018) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that nine Denver attorneys have been selected to the 2018 Colorado Super Lawyers and Rising Stars lists. James D. Kilroy, Michael E. Lindsay, Timothy G. O'Neill, Neil Peck, Byeongsook Seo and Jessica E. Yates have been awarded Super Lawyers designations. Jason B. Brinkley, Eric L. Kintner and Ellie Lockwood have been selected to the Rising Stars list. Each year, no more than five percent of lawyers in the state receive the Super Lawyers distinction, and no more 2.5 percent are chosen as Rising Stars.

Super Lawyers, part of Thomson Reuters, is a rating service of outstanding lawyers from more than 70 practice areas who have attained a high degree of peer recognition and professional achievement. The annual selections are made using a patented multiphase process that includes a statewide survey of lawyers, an independent research evaluation of candidates and peer reviews by practice area.

Colorado Super Lawyers

James D. Kilroy, Partner, Business Litigation – Jim Kilroy's trial, appellate and arbitration practice covers all areas of business and employment litigation. Jim represents clients in jurisdictions across the United States in matters involving contracts, securities, shareholder claims, officer and director liability, intellectual property, trade secrets, noncompetition agreements, mineral rights, real estate, construction, federal and state employment claims, and professional liability. He has extensive experience in complex litigation proceedings, including multidistrict litigation matters, class actions and collective actions.

Michael E. Lindsay, Partner, Business Litigation – Mike Lindsay's practice is concentrated in complex commercial litigation, with emphasis on contract disputes, real estate and construction matters. In particular, he represents owners, contractors and developers in complex real estate and construction actions. He also represents numerous national and local banks and other financial services providers in litigation involving all facets of commercial and consumer lending services. He represents clients in numerous state and federal courts and has substantial experience in taking traditional court and jury cases to trial, as well as in the use of alternative dispute resolution mechanisms such as arbitration and mediation. Mike also practices before federal and state administrative hearing boards.

Timothy G. O'Neill, Partner, Business Litigation – Tim O'Neill's national litigation practice focuses on complex business litigation and product liability tort litigation, particularly regional and national "pattern" litigation. He represents major corporate defendants as regional and national trial counsel with extensive jury trial experience in numerous federal and state courts around the country. Tim is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers. Tim served as the Administrative Partner of Snell & Wilmer's Denver office and a member of the firm's Executive Committee from 2000 through 2016.

Neil Peck, Of Counsel, General Litigation – Neil Peck's practice is concentrated in complex litigation, including appeals, involving commercial, trade regulation, environmental, natural resources, and international issues. He has represented major American and international corporate clients, including corporate officers, in complex civil and criminal business litigation matters involving issues such as accounting fraud, foreign corrupt practices, environmental, natural resources, antitrust, and false advertising.

Byeongsook Seo, Counsel, Business Litigation – Byeongsook Seo is a member of the firm's commercial litigation practice. Byeongsook's practice includes a broad range of subjects, including complex intellectual property and commercial disputes. He has represented high-tech clients in disputes that ranged from patent and trade secret enforcement actions to disputes over the sale of high-tech products. Byeongsook's clients have sought his guidance in disputes related to failed business ventures and disputes among business partners, shareholders and directors. He has defended many officers and directors from lawsuits arising out of their business dealings.

Jessica E. Yates, Partner, Appellate – Jessica Yates' practice is concentrated in litigation and appeals in both federal and state courts, as well as business issues and negotiations. She has experience in commercial disputes, consumer lending litigation for institutional clients, condemnation/ eminent domain, contract negotiations, public-private partnerships, government procurement and private contract disputes, environmental law, real estate and construction litigation, agribusiness law, special districts/local government and insurance coverage disputes.

Colorado Rising Stars

Jason B. Brinkley, Partner, Real Estate – Jason Brinkley focuses his transactional law practice on the areas of energy, real estate and government relations matters, with an emphasis on infrastructure development and alternative energy (including solar and wind). He represents local and national companies in connection with all aspects of oil and gas and other energy infrastructure projects, including right-of-way and easement acquisition, pipeline and asset acquisition, land use and permitting, project financing and reclamation. Jason also assists clients with a wide array of real estate matters including acquisitions and dispositions, financing, land use and development, leasing and permitting. In addition, Jason represents and advises clients on legal and legislative matters before state and local governments.

Eric L. Kintner, Partner, Healthcare – Eric Kintner focuses on providing clients with practical and business-centric legal advice. With more than a decade of experience across a broad range of industries, he is able to combine industry-specific knowledge with innovative solutions to help clients address challenges with complex legal and business issues across their local, regional and global operations. From startups and emerging businesses to established companies, Eric represents clients in a variety of sectors, including: Healthcare Services and Digital Health, Life Sciences and Medical Device Technology, Blockchain and the Internet of Things, and Data Privacy and Cybersecurity.

Ellie Lockwood, Associate, General Litigation – Ellie Lockwood focuses her practice in commercial and intellectual property litigation. Prior to joining Snell & Wilmer, she gained significant litigation experience at a boutique trial firm, where she handled a broad range of business disputes. Representative matters include defending a multimillion dollar trade secret dispute filed simultaneously in three jurisdictions, prosecuting a RICO/COCCA action on behalf of a government entity, defending a qui tam suit against a Fortune 500 company and prosecuting a fraud case under the Colorado Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act, including seeking prejudgment attachment orders, temporary restraining orders and a preliminary injunction freezing assets until trial. She also has substantial experience with contempt and post-judgment proceedings.
