SNELL & WILMER LOS ANGELES OFFICE TO HOST LOCAL ARTIST EXHIBIT

LOS ANGELES (June 3, 2019) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce the Los Angeles office will be hosting an art exhibit at their office featuring a selection of artwork from Los Angeles native Jose “Prime” Reza.

Prime, a Mexican-American graffiti artist born and raised in the Pico-Union District of Downtown Los Angeles, is a founding member of K2S (a street-art and graffiti crew) and is considered to be one of the most influential artists in the history of Los Angeles public wall writing. His lettering combines hybridized angular “Cholo” writing with East Coast “Wild Style” into an aesthetic that is uniquely identified with LA: bold, aggressive and monochromatic. Prime contributed the cover design for The Getty Research Institute’s LA Liber Amicorum and continues to develop and master writing styles, translating his texts into paintings and mixed media works.

“Our office is honored to host such an influential artist and proud to be able to share his work with our clients and friends,” said Cary Jones, managing partner of Snell & Wilmer’s Los Angeles office. “We are dedicated to helping the downtown Los Angeles community thrive. Our attorneys and staff have contributed their time and services to numerous non-profit organizations and programs including Central City Association, Institute of Contemporary Art – Los Angeles and the Inner City Arts after school art program. This event is just another example of how we are doing our part. Prime is an incredible artist with an incredible story and we are excited to host this exhibit.”

The event will be at Snell & Wilmer’s office in downtown Los Angeles on June 13 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. For more information or press inquiries, please contact Jennifer Bergman at jbergman@swlaw.com or 714.427.7035.
