SNELL & WILMER WELCOMES THREE ASSOCIATES TO PHOENIX OFFICE

PHOENIX (June 17, 2019) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that three associates joined its Phoenix office in May.

Jennifer M. Puchalski's practice is focused on real estate. Her experience includes representing real estate developers, investors, institutional lenders, government entities and other landowners in real estate transactions. These transactions include acquisition and construction financings, development projects, land use and entitlement matters, commercial leases and ground leasing of real property.

Puchalski obtained her J.D. from Fordham University School of Law. She is licensed to practice in California and New York, and will be waiving into the Arizona Bar. Prior to joining Snell & Wilmer, Puchalski was an associate at Loeb & Loeb in Los Angeles, and prior to that, at Skadden Arps in New York.

Ryan J. Regula

Ryan J. Regula is a member of Snell & Wilmer's special litigation and compliance practice group. His practice includes administrative law, environmental litigation, government regulatory compliance, political and election law, commercial litigation and health care matters, including professional liability defense. Regula obtained his J.D. from the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University and his B.A. from the University of Notre Dame. He is licensed to practice in Arizona and the District of Columbia.

Prior to joining Snell & Wilmer, Regula was an Assistant Attorney General for the State of Arizona, where he first- and second-chaired many of the State's highest profile environmental cases. He also assisted the U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee and clerked for the Hon. Patrick T. Kiniry of Pennsylvania's trial court division.

At the University of Notre Dame, he was a member of four Big East Conference Championship track and field teams. He continues his love for track and field as the sprint coach for Xavier College Prep in Phoenix.

Daniel M. Staren is a member of the firm's commercial litigation practice group. His practice focuses on intellectual property and technology litigation involving a wide variety of companies in various industries, including telecommunications, cloud computing and life sciences.

Staren obtained his J.D., with honors, from The Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University where he served as an editor for the Arizona State Law Journal. He obtained a master of science in molecular biology from Loyola. He is licensed to practice in Missouri and is applying for admission to the Arizona Bar. Prior to joining Snell & Wilmer, Staren practiced patent litigation as an associate at Shook, Hardy & Bacon in Kansas City.
