Announcing ...

SNELL & WILMER ATTORNEY PATRICIA BRUM JOINS USC LAMBDA LGBT ALUMNI ASSOCIATION BOARD OF DIRECTORS

LOS ANGELES (August 8, 2019) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that Los Angeles Attorney Patricia Brum has joined the Board of Directors for University of Southern California Lambda LGBT Alumni Association. Her term on the board began in July.

USC Lambda LGBT Alumni Association was founded as part of the USC Student Affairs Office by a group of alumni in November 1992. The association's mission is to award scholarships to current students of any gender or sexual orientation who support LGBT issues; keep members connected to the university and each other through events, activities, professional networking and forums; and create an enriching and supportive community that promotes education, networking and increased visibility for LGBT students and alumni.

Patricia Brum

Patricia, a Brazilian native, is a business lawyer with over 15 years of experience in representing Latin American and American companies of all sizes in their international business dealings. She has worked with over 200 companies in the building materials and construction supply market, including importers, distributors and fabricators. She has extensive experience in drafting construction supply agreements and representing her clients in legal disputes involving breach of warranty and defects in civil courts as well as arbitration proceedings. Patricia has also represented homeowners' associations and HOA board members in a wide range of litigation and non-litigation matters, including drafting/amending governing documents (CC&Rs, Bylaws, Rules and Regulations), construction defects, breach of CC&Rs and breach of fiduciary duty disputes, Directors & Officers insurance claims, and many novel legal issues relating to cannabis law, vacation rental restrictions and assessment increase/collection.

Patricia completed her undergraduate degree in International Relations and International Business at the Universidade de Brasilia. She completed her MBA at the University of Southern California and her JD at Southwestern University School of Law. She previously held a general contractor's license in California, and a subcontractor license in Nevada for fabrication and installation of natural stones, tiles and cabinets. Patricia is a member of the Brazil California Chamber of Commerce and Community Association Institute, and she is fluent in Portuguese and Spanish.
