SNELL & WILMER PARTNER ELIZABETH WYLIE NAMED A LAWYER OF THE YEAR BY LAW WEEK COLORADO

DENVER (January 14, 2020) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that Denver partner Elizabeth Wylie was named a 2019 Lawyer of the Year by Law Week Colorado. The publication featured Wylie in its print publication and online in an article and video showcasing her mission to support women in the area of pay equity.

Wylie was recognized for her efforts co-developing an educational workshop that teaches negotiating skills to professional women, equipping them with tools to negotiate better salaries. She has presented the workshop to professional groups throughout 2019 and has plans to continue the presentations with other organizations this year. Additionally, as co-chair of the Power of Extended Philanthropy committee of the Women's Foundation of Colorado, Wylie has been instrumental in raising money for the organization and helping pass Colorado's Equal Pay Act.

"Being recognized for my work supporting women in the workplace is an honor," said Wylie. "It has been so rewarding to draw on my experience as a corporate and employment litigator to provide tools that can lead to diverse workplaces where women feel confident and capable of standing up for what they are worth."

Wylie joined Snell & Wilmer in June 2019 with more than 25 years of experience in business and employment litigation. She has represented clients across multiple industries, including food service, health care, construction, real estate and manufacturing. In addition to her work with the Women's Foundation of Colorado, Wylie also serves as a mentor for the Colorado Attorney Mentoring Program and as a coach for the Colorado High School Mock Trial Program.
