SALT LAKE CITY ASSOCIATE JASON HARMON SELECTED AS YOUNG LAWYER VICE LIAISON TO DRI'S DRUG AND MEDICAL DEVICE COMMITTEE

SALT LAKE CITY (February 21, 2020) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that Jason Harmon has been selected as one of the Young Lawyer Vice Liaisons to DRI's Drug and Medical Device Committee.

In this role, Harmon will be responsible for helping the committee leadership with articles, programming, and marketing, with an emphasis on serving young lawyers in this area of practice. He will also assist in planning portions of the annual Seminar, which brings together practitioners and in-house lawyers from across the country. The 2020 Seminar will be held in Boston on May 5-8.

Jason Harmon

DRI's Drug and Medical Device Committee is the preeminent organization for attorneys who represent the manufacturers of pharmaceuticals, medical devices, biologics and other products created to provide health benefits to consumers. There are a number of opportunities to become involved for new practitioners to seasoned attorneys, whether they are in a firm, in-house, or risk management.

Harmon is a commercial and product liability litigator. He defends high-stakes product defect, contract and other claims against manufacturers of industrial, commercial and consumer products as well as pharmaceuticals and medical devices. He also represents a variety of other businesses and has experience defending large, complex and multidistrict litigation in addition to individual matters. He represents companies at all stages of litigation, from pre-suit investigation through complex electronic discovery, depositions, discovery disputes, expert work-up, dispositive motions and alternative dispute resolution. He has helped defend companies against broad electronic discovery requests and sought discovery from third parties in various countries, including France, Canada and Mexico, and has appeared in foreign discovery proceedings. Harmon also advocates for juveniles and parents on a pro bono basis at trial and on appeal.
