SNELL & WILMER'S TUCSON OFFICE NAMED A COPPER CACTUS AWARD FINALIST

TUCSON (August 20, 2021) – Snell & Wilmer is proud to have been named a finalist to the Tucson Metro Chamber's Copper Cactus Awards in the category of DPR Construction Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Champion. Since 1997, the Copper Cactus awards have honored some of the top companies in Southern Arizona.

The DEI Champion award category recognizes an organization that “has demonstrated a commitment to building a workforce that reflects the rich diversity in the communities in which we live, work and play. They are places where all are encouraged and empowered to thrive as their most authentic selves.”

Firm Chair Matt Feeney stated, “Snell & Wilmer is committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace, with an understanding that diversity makes us stronger as a firm. At its core, diversity is about people – the similarities that bind us and the differences that enrich us, individually and collectively.”

This is the third consecutive year that Snell & Wilmer's Tucson office has been named a finalist for a Copper Cactus Award. In 2019, Snell & Wilmer went on to win the Copper Cactus in the category of Innovation for the creation and use of innovative processes to pioneer change in the industry. The firm was named a finalist in 2020 in the category of Best Place to Work.
