SNELL & WILMER PARTNERS KEITH M. GREGORY AND ROSE B. SORENSEN RECOGNIZED AS 2022 VISIONARIES IN THE LOS ANGELES TIMES B2B BUSINESS OF LAW MAGAZINE

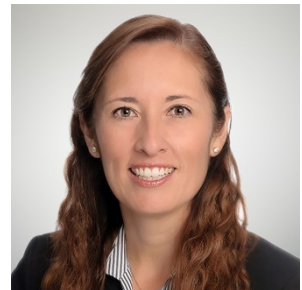

LOS ANGELES (June 29, 2022) – Snell & Wilmer is pleased to announce that partners Keith M. Gregory and Rose B. Sorensen have been recognized as 2022 Visionaries in the Business of Law: Trends, Updates and Visionaries magazine. According to the publication, this list recognizes accomplished law firm attorneys who have exhibited exemplary achievements within their respective practice areas. Nominees are determined based on three criteria: noteworthy success and accomplishment achieved in the past 24 months, strong leadership roles within nominees' organizations and communities, and innovative strategies to help nominee's organizations and clients avoid risk and leverage opportunities.

Gregory serves as Chair of the commercial litigation group in Los Angeles and Co-Chair of the commercial litigation group in California. He practices in the areas of general business matters, corporate, franchise and partnership disputes, and intellectual property and commercial litigation. Gregory is an experienced litigator, with considerable background in litigating government debarment proceedings, intellectual property issues, licensing agreements, trade secret matters and Uniform Commercial Code issues, especially within the electronic components, computer hardware and semi-conductor industries. He is co-chair of Snell & Wilmer's First-Gen Forward program, a program that endeavors to provide our first generation attorneys, some of whom may include people who are the first in their families to achieve a college degree or who come from a low-income or working-class background, with additional resources and programming to allow them to achieve professional growth and success at the firm. Gregory received his J.D. from University of San Diego School of Law and his B.A. from University of California, Los Angeles.

Sorensen is a partner in the firm's corporate and securities group whose practice includes mergers and acquisitions, reorganizations, commercial finance, private placements, venture capital, corporate governance, telecommunications services, joint ventures, licensing and entity structure and formation. She has extensive experience helping clients navigate through intricate business issues in a variety of industries. Sorensen has created and grown a thriving practice in a traditionally male-dominated industry, taking pride in her ability to accomplish the goals set even when she may be the only woman in the room. She recognizes the unique perspective she brings as a professional woman operating in the middle market and often utilizes it to promote and connect other women and professionals in M&A. Sorensen received her J.D. from Loyola Law School, her M.B.A. from Loyola Marymount University, and her B.S. from University of California, Berkeley.
