

Elizabeth M. Weldon – Advice to New Associate or Law Student

The advice I'd give to a new associate or law student is to say yes. There's going to be a lot of opportunities that come your way in either law school or early in your practice, and you have no idea what they are yet, but the key is saying yes to those opportunities and pushing your boundaries. Do things that you didn't think you could do. Stretch yourself, and I think you'll be really amazed at what you really can do and the confidence you have and how you grow as a lawyer.
